WriterTips®

Automatic Writing Advisor

Improves Student Writing

WriterTips is a powerful two part program designed to automatically assist, advise and guide your writing students.

Good Writing Starts With A Great Beginning!

The first sentence of the essay often dictates the voice, the interest and the direction of the entire essay. The Writer's Great Beginnings program automatically advises students, assuring an interesting, creative and engaging beginning.

WriterTips automatically presents specific traits of good writing. These tips focus on those components that make the biggest difference in student writing: clarity, focus, word choice, fluency and voice.

The Writer incorporates over 15 unique and powerful features and programs, all focused on keyboard mastery and improving writing skills.

- Sixteen student work folders
- 250 named files
- Complete and effective keyboard instruction
- Easy and accurate wireless send
- Thesaurus
- Spanish to English translation
- Spell Check
- Writing prompts
- Good writing checklists
- Auto-heading (student, teacher, date)
- Spell It! – spelling mastery program

Great Beginnings
Capture the reader's attention by using one of these great beginnings.
1. Begin with dialogue.
"Put me down" Amanda shouted.

WriterTip - Add Feelings
Good Writers connect with their readers

WriterTip - Add Personification
Personification gives human qualities

WriterTip - Vary Sentence Beginnings
Make your writing more interesting by beginning each sentence with a different word.

Before students begin their essay, this Great Beginnings message is displayed. Seven different beginning styles are listed with a description and example for each. Great Beginnings guides students to a more thoughtful and interesting beginning.
